As We Celebrate Jesus' Birth

Christmas is around the corner, and for many around the world we have received a great gift: a vaccine. I know that there are differing views on whether individuals will choose to be vaccinated or not, yet it is a universal sigh of relief that the vaccine means there is light at the end of the tunnel and an end to this pandemic. Who would have thought nine months ago that we would still be socially distanced today? The irony is not lost on me that it takes nine months for a full-term pregnancy, and here we are in the season of Advent getting ready to celebrate the birth of baby Jesus.

This pandemic has put a strain on us all during this "Covidtide," and Parkview is most certainly birthing into a new era on how to do church. Last Sunday we celebrated our first communion together using the Zoom interface. I imagine what all of Jesus' disciples would have thought, if they had had a crystal ball and could see how the Cup and the Bread were being received in the year 2020. I think "mind blowing" would be an understatement. And "mind blowing" will be an understatement when we finally get to worship once again in each other's presence in 2021. As we look to the new year, there will be some new changes at Parkview. The Pastor Nominating Committee is working diligently to secure a permanent pastor for the congregation, so rest assured that that is in the works.

After three years, Rola's residency will end on December 31 as she moves on to her next pastoral position. I know that Rola has touched the lives of many at Parkview, and we are grateful for her pastoral care and leadership, especially during the transitional time between Pastor Aart's leaving and my arrival. It has been remarkable to watch Rola in action in her pastoral care, powerful preaching, organizational skills, and her tech savviness. She has a lot of energy for the ministry, and she brings a unique voice to the Gospel which beckons all of us to hear. Rola's final Sunday will be December 27. She will preach during the Sunday morning Zoom worship followed by a drive-by goodbye in front of the church from 1-3pm. Rola, our Parkview family is grateful for all that you have done, and we wish you the very best!

Blessings!
Pastor Pamela

"I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now, being confident of this, that God who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus." (Philippians 1:3-6)

Pastor Nominating Committee Hard at Work

The Pastor Nominating Committee (PNC) has been meeting frequently since August, working its way through the application process required by the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). Our initial task has been to complete a detailed form called the Ministry Information Form, which includes fill the blank, multiple choice, and narrative questions. Once completed, it must be approved by Parkview's Session and the Presbytery Committee on Ministry (COM). The COM will facilitate access to the national Church Leadership Connection (CLC) database, which contains listings of available positions and ministers seeking employment.

Because of the sensitive nature of the PNC's responsibilities, its proceedings and work is kept confidential. This provides all candidates with an assurance of fair and equal access to information and the application process, while also ensuring confidentiality for candidates applying for positions outside their current place of employment.

Committee members are Donna Komure Toyama, chair; William Yee, vice-chair; Herning Grissom, Maurine Huang, Haruko Sakakibara, Wade Tambara, and Gary Younglove.

Thoughts on Prayer

My spouse and I share similar non-Christian family backgrounds. As children we did not see or learn about prayer at home. My widowed mother became a Christian after friends invited her to church. Mother began saying prayer before each meal, or as she said, "give thanks to God." But prayer mostly remained a mystery to us as mother used formal Cantonese whenever she prayed to show respect to God - leaving us in the dark because we literally did not understand what she was saying.

I met my future husband at my mother's church. We heard prayers during Sunday services. I participated in some uncomfortable prayer circles during small group bible studies. Otherwise I thought saying grace before meals and helping our children with bedtime prayers was enough. When my mother went into hospice six years ago, I did not understand then as I do now the comfort and power of a shared prayer.

Parkview's pastoral team led a study on prayer this year that led me to a more personal understanding of prayer - it is as simple and wonderful as having a conversation with your best friend, God. How would you go about renewing a friendship, becoming best friends again? I know I need to devote regular time to talk and listen to God. As a member of Parkview's Prayer Team, I have accountability and the privilege of uplifting you when you need prayer. Our monthly support meetings and periodic prayer training sessions are refreshing and motivating!

Kansha Korner

Our residents' column on their recent activities.

Rola writes:

Wow! My last Kansha Korner article!

When I first arrived here, our resident Chelsea Page interviewed me and asked me what drew me to Parkview and what I was most excited about; you can find this article in the Jan 2018 newsletter. Almost three years later, I would like to revisit and re-answer these questions.

At the time I wrote that I felt God leading me to this congregation; that was part of the truth. To be honest, I was so scared and nervous about leaving the comfort of my home to go serve an American church with a Japanese heritage and culture in a place called "Sacramento!" I kept asking myself, "What's a 'Sacramento' anyway?! And what are baby boomers?" I didn't see any babies upon arriving; neither did I see any of the famous California beaches!

Also to my own surprise, I read in my original answers that at the time, my main focus was getting a PhD. Only after I read that, did I remember my weekly conversations with pastor Aart during our mentoring sessions, in which we talked about future plans and how I was determined to pursue a PhD degree. It is remarkable to think how my time with you has shifted my priorities. I definitely still plan on continuing my academic journey, but parish ministry has been so enjoyable that I temporarily forgot all about it.

Serving you has been a lot of fun, empowering, reassuring, enriching, and encouraging. You have allowed me to grow in multiple ways and domains; your flexibility has allowed me to explore different ministries and to branch out to serve the church through the presbytery and the national office. Besides ministry, my journey at Parkview has been enriched by knowing many of you closely. I've shared in your joys, celebrations, sicknesses, losses, fears, hopes, tears . . . and it has been a privilege and an honor to be made part of your lives and your journeys.

You have shown me care, hospitality, generosity, and graciousness beyond anything I would have ever expected, and I am forever grateful for this unique opportunity. I came to you nervous and scared and am leaving empowered and hopeful. I came with pain and fear and am leaving with so much love in my heart.

A pastor friend of mine told me that you will always have a love affair with your first church; so Parkview, our three-year long relationship won't be over!

Until we meet again, may God bless you and keep you, may God shine God's face upon you and be gracious to you, may God turn God's face toward you and give you peace.

Volunteer Spotlight: Bill Nagata

Parkview is fueled by its volunteers, many of whom work behind the scenes to keep the church going.

Besides leading the men's group and co-skippering the Mariners, Bill was one of the gardening angels, who tended the church grounds for many years. He also founded Parkview's Photo Club. He has managed to lead outings during the pandemic, keeping our members outdoors and safe. Thanks, Bill, for all your hard work!
